CALL FOR SURVEY PARTICIPANTS

Public administrations and agencies often have complicated forms and applications that are difficult to understand. This makes it difficult for people to fill them out correctly. We want to use artificial intelligence to build a smart system that helps people fill out these forms. We are first looking at the application form of permit for subsidized housing (Wohnberechtigungsschein). People who wish to live in socially subsidized housing need to apply for this certificate.
We would like to know what you think of this.
